

iGuiding becomes Topguide24

The new free app for comparing tours, activities, excursions and tickets on the go

Berlin, July 2017 - In the middle of the summer holiday season, Topguide24's new app comes just in time to respond to the growing demand for holiday and leisure activities.

The improved Topguide24 app replaces the previous iGuiding app and can also be downloaded free of charge.

Simply enter the destination in the prominently placed search field and compare offers for excursions, tours, tickets and activities at over 4,200 destinations. The new app offers this service in German, French, English, Italian and Spanish. The desired language is selected via the country flag navigation, which can be accessed from any page.

In addition to the well-known tour offers, there are now even more user-friendly functions. Via an in-app navigation you can now click back and forth among the individual offers, or return to the start page again and again.

"Additional user-friendly filters, such as the search for tickets only, are in progress and will be updated with a further version," says founder Patrick Schulz.

"No matter whether you enjoy spending your holiday at home or in other places, simply planning your holiday is fun. And special highlights should always be included! We're delighted that we can still offer our customers a mobile excursion search engine for this summer," says Patrick Schulz.

The revised app is now available free of charge for Android in the PlayStore and for iOS in the App Store.
