

Topguide24 introduces new filter functions

The price search engine for excursions, tours, tickets, and activities has added new search functions

Berlin, March 2018 - Topguide24 is kicking off a new travel season with a new version of its excursion search engine. Thanks to the new filter functions, people looking for active vacations will find more fun things to do even more easily, especially when searching on mobile devices.

You can now filter offers directly by relevant destinations such as hop-on/hop-off tours, city tours, and ticket reservations without having to scroll through extensive result lists. Finally, it is also possible to filter by price, so you can find the perfect outing to match your budget. You can also now sort the results by customer ratings.

The principle of the new filters is simple and the desired results are displayed in a list as usual. As a result, Topguide24 customers can find what they're looking for faster and no longer have to click through all the results.

Take Paris, for example. If you simply search for Paris, you'll get 119 pages of results! Which is great, but if you're only interested in guided city tours, now you can filter out the other results and browse through just 15 offers. Or if you don't want to spend more than €50 on an experience, you can apply this filter to limit the results to just 83 pages for Paris.
